BOYES SPRINGS THEATRE SCENE OF RED CROSS BENEFIT

The entertainment and dance given at Boyes Springs theatre last Saturday night for the benefit of the Sonoma branch of the Red Cross was a decided success both socially and financially. About $75 was realized and the ladies who will put this amount into materials for soldiers wear are most grateful to the boys of Boyes Springs for their indefatigable efforts to make the benefit a success and to the management for the use of the theatre, lights, music, etc.

The stage of the theatre never looked prettier than with its patriotic decoration, a large insignia of the Red Cross emblazoned on a white background and draped on either side with two handsome American flags.

The program, consisting of clever singers, accordian players, monologue and moving pictures was greatly enjoyed and was followed by dancing which continued until midnight.

The entire proceeds were turned over to the Red Cross ladies and were thankfully received.

Mrs. Yenni, Pete Yenni Jr., who is an employee of the navy yard, and Miss Elsie Yenni, were up from Vallejo Sunday. Pete is making good and some weeks gets as much as $20 wages.

BOYES CHEMICAL FIGHTS ANOTHER FIRE

The Andrea cottage at Boyes Springs was destroyed by fire Thursday, the chemical engine arriving too late to save the flame enveloped home. An adjoining cottage belonging to Mrs. Bank was afire but the heroic work of the department led by Chief Gowan, Jim Baines ,Landers Stevens W. Kirby and Walter Steurmer kept the fire from spreading. Kirby rushed into the fire swept structure with the nozzle of the chemical and Steurmer fought the flames from the roof in the face of great danger. The Kendall cottake was saved by a volunteer bucket brigade. Great excitement prevailed during the conflagration which occured about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The cause of the blaze was unknown.

SAY MR. JOHNSON!

There is to be a minstrel show at the Home Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, for the benefit of the Jack London library fund. Archie Seelight is to be the interlocotur, Bert Jones and Harry Davis end men and the later will be asisted by fourteen clever comedians.

Mrs. C. E. Johnson and son attended the circus in S. F. Saturday last.

TAX-PAYERS STORM COUNTY CITADEL

League Protests Increased Tax Rates In Sonoma County.

The Tax Payers League made a spectacular sally on the Supervisers Tuesday to protest the new county budget and the proposed tax rate. They stormed the official citadel and made the county board feel like Londoners during a German air raid.

The tax payers in the League are of two kinds, those who are reactionists and like the name of Tax Payer Leaguer better than mossback, silurian or kicker and those who simply want to get their money's worth in county expenditure. Both varieties were representated at the meeting of the Supervisors Tuesday and interrogated the board as to proposed expenditures.

They were told of the increased school apportionment necessary on account of no poll taxes and for the insistent crying need for new bridges and better roads throughout each of the many districts. The Taxpayers League speakers advised no outlay except for urgent necessities, arguing that all materials were too high at this time.

The protestants were informed of the unsafe condition of many bridges in the county and the liability of each of the Supervisors in case of accident. Supervisor Weise cited his own experience in the Nuns Canyon accident which was followed by the filing of a suit a few years ago. It was pointed out that all new bridges would be of concrete and while more costly in the beginning, were the only type generally satisfactory. The Supervisors said they were cognizant that the taxes this year would be high but in the face of popular demand for better type roads and believing that Sonoma county should not lag behind many progressive sister counties in this part of California, they conscientiously arrived at the costs set forth in the budget.

After the expenditure of much energy and the spilling of considerable oratory, the Tax Payers League speakers were repaid by the announcement that the tax rate could be cut about 11 cents on the $100.

It was apparent to the fair minded citizens in conference with the Supervisors that money is only wasted when things are half done and old patch-work methods prevail. The Board is trying to get away from this as is seen in our own district where concrete bridges have been built for some time past by Supervisor Harry Weise instead of the old time ones with their expensive upkeep. It would appear that the Tax Payers League came into being at the wrong time. Had they gone to the bat twenty years ago and pointed out the modern way of improvements, the people of Sonoma county would not have paid for the same work over and over again and fattened up so many political hangers-on. However the Supervisors of this county have some time since answered the call of progress and efficiency and know that the voice of the people is for improvements of a substantial type and enduring character. If the taxpayers of Sonoma county get what they pay for and have something to show for the tax money expended there can be little room for complaint. We cannot be penny wise when it comes to giving the travelling public proper routes of travel throughout Sonoma county or in standardizing the public schools.

The Index-Tribune is not actuated by any particular love for the Supervisors in taking this point of view and we rise to remark that every time the Tax Payers League gets active the only thing the Supervisors can think of to cut down on is printing and advertising and yet both the officials and the most rabid leaguers will admit that when it comes down to true service the newspapers of Sonoma county all deliver the goods and could not place a monetary value on the endless promotion work they have done and are doing for this section. Yet their prices come in for the most senseless criticism and encouragement has even been given to spend money for printing in San Francisco and Sacramento. Just to satisfy the Tax Payers League sympathizers say the county dads.

CITY TRUSTEES IN SESSION

Transact Much Business and Discuss Water, Fire Protection, Light, Sewers, Streets and Plaza Beautification.

The City Trustees of Sonoma were all present at the regular September session Wednesday night and much business was transacted.

After the bills had been duly presented and allowed, the matter of the street lighting expense came up for discussion and the proper committee authorized to take up the suggestion of a meter rate instead of a flat rate with the company, it appearing to some of the trustees a better and more economical plan.

Contractor Gildersleeve of Napa offered to build a concrete bridge on Washington street which would be within the means of the city, something hitherto seemingly impossible as several bids for this work have been rejected.

An invitation was received from Santa Rosa to attend the California League of Municipalities which convenes in Santa Rosa Sept. 24-29.

The bid of William Trudgen for $173 to build stone pillars at the cemetery entrance was referred to the Cemetery Committee who have charge of this improvement.

The Fire and Water Committee was instructed to purchase six new fire extinguishers and to have the suction hose on the engine repaired.

City Engineer Thomas Lewis submitted an estimate for the sewage connections on Chase avenue—624 feet of six inch pipe to be laid at a cost of $633. He was advised to proceed with the work, R. Quartaroli to be in charge of the construction.

The city's books will be properly audited for the fiscal year just ended, a motion to this effect having been duly made and carried. It was decided to purchase a new flag for the city hall.

The proposition to have Mason & Locke, San Francisco bond experts put through the water election at a cost of $250, this amount including an agreement to sell the bonds, met with the general approval of the Board and was recommended by City Attorney Cowgill.

Mayor Von Hacht advocated the completion of another unit of the plaza beautification plan as outlined by the University of aClifornia. The library trustees were reported favorable to filling in around the library building if the city would lay the walks in that portion of the plaza. On motion of Trustee McDevitt it was decided to call for bids to put in walks on the east side of the plaza in accordance with the plan being followed out. A motion to transfer $1000 from the street fund to the plaza fund carried.

It was decided to ask the supervisor of this district for the use of the big steam roller when work is being done on West Napa street so that the city can scarify and roll some of our streets.

NOBLE WOMAN RESTS IN PEACE

Death Comes to Mary E. Spencer Pioneer Mother of Sonoma Valley

The death of Mrs. Mary E. Spencer occured in San Francisco Sunday last and in her passing Sonoma Valley has lost one of its noblest pioneer mothers.

Mrs. Spencer, who was the daughter of the late Judge D. O. Shattuck, spent her early days here where she raised a family of six children all of whom have preceded her to the Great Beyond with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hooper. With the latter Mrs. Spencer spent her declining years in comfort and great happiness.

Mrs. Spencer was a devout Christian and one whose life was an open book of beautiful traits of character, patience, forebearance, self sacrifice and countless virtues. Her mother's father was a Methodist minister of North Carolina when as Elizabeth Ann Saunders she married David O. Shattuck in 1827. Mary E. Spencer followed the religious teachings of the Saunders family and was all her life a devoted member of the M. E. Church. From her scholarly father she inherited traits as noble as her true Christianity and was rightfully proud of her family name. Judge Shattuck was at one time a candidate for governor of Mississippi, a professor of law and president of the Centennary College of Louisiana. Arriving in San Francisco about the year 1850 he resumed the practice of law and he was shortly honored with a judgeship of the Superior Court. In 1862 the distinguished jurist retired to the ranch he had purchased some years previous here in Sonoma Valley.

Mary E. Shattuck his daughter, was married to Mr. Spencer, an attorney of prominence and after his death became the bride of Dr. McLaughlin. Five children were born of the first union and one son, Alfred by the second marriage.

Mrs. Spencer cared for her father many years prior to his death the grand old man living to be 80 years of age. Many times following his pasing the Grim Reaper visited the Spencer home and called away loved ones of this mother, strong in faith and hope in the face of repeated grief and sacrifice.

After the death of her daughter, Mrs. Granville Harris, she cared for the Harris family until the children had all grown up and she then accepted the luxurious home offered by her daughter, Mrs. Geo. A. Hooper of San Francisco, who with Mrs. Alf. McLaughlin and her grandchildren, made her declining years very happy.

Mrs. Spencer retained her mental faculties to the last and was a bright handsome and interesting old lady.

She had partaken of a hearty meal the night of her death but at midnight awakened to tell her daughter, summoned from an adjoining room, that she was about to breathe her last. Before a physician could be summoned she had passed away.

The funeral took place here Wednesday from the M. E. Church and was largely attended. The casket and flowers were most beautiful and after impressive services all that was mortal of this splendid woman was interred in the quiet earth of Valley Cemetery where sleep so many dear ones gone before.

Deceased was a native of Mississippi, aged 84 years.

Pathetic Tragedy Enacted On Train Saturday Night

Mrs. Edward Burns Takes Life of Self and Child Near Here in Shocking Manner Last Saturday Night.

A pathetic and shocking tragedy was enacted on last Saturday night's N. W. P. train between Shellville and this place when Mrs. Edward Burns and her little daughter Janette were shot by a revolver fired by the temporarily deranged mother in the lavatory of one of the cars, the little life snuffed out instantly and the suicide breathing her last when found by the train crew.

The mother with her chlid came upon the boat from the San Francisco waiting room and gave no evidence of the terrible secret which must have lurked in the mother's mind for she was then carrying a black bag with the 38 calibre weapon with which she planned destruction. Her manner was calm and her greeting to a former schoolmate, Mrs. Clara Johnson, very cordial. She asked about old friends and seemed unusually vivacious and pleasant as she recalled old times and also a recent pleasant outing to Portland where a month ago she had visited. Little golden curled Janette seemed her pride and joy and with little Maxwell Johnson played in a light hearted childish manner, little dreaming of the awful fate that was to come at the end of their journey.

At Sausalito, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Johnson could not find seats together and parted, Mrs. Johnson going into a forward coach. What terrible aberation of mind possessed the apparently fond and devoted mother will never be known. Fellow passengers observed that the woman and her little girl went into the ladies toilet as the train neared Shellville, the girlhood home of Mrs. Burns where as May Donahue she was one of a large family of old and respected residents.

Shortly after they closed the door and as the train proceeded on its way, two shots rang out but to the passengers in the coach they sounded like torpedoes and they did not for a minute associate the shots with the woman and child in the lavatory, until blood began to trickle out from under the locked door. Trainmen then investigated and the awful tragedy was unfolded. Lying side by side were the forms of the unfortunate mother and the sweet little innocent babe who went to her death with the dear one who brought her into the world and who loved her too much to leave her. A physician on the train pronounced them both dead and a 38 calibre revolver told the mute tale of the awful deed.

At Sonoma the bodies were removed to the baggage room and upon the arrival of Dr. W. B. Hayes it was discovered by him that the mother was still gasping and that life had not yet fled. She was at once removed to the office of the doctor who saw no hope for the fast flickering spark of vitality and who realized that could life and reason be restored a living death would confront the mother with the realization of the fate of her beloved little one. Rev. T. P. Moran was called and administered the last sad rites of the Catholic church of which the stricken woman and all her loved ones had always been most devout members. At eleven o'clock pulsation ceased and Dr. Hayes pronounced the patient dead.

Meanwhile a note found in the hand bag of the suicide gave a clew to her identity and her husband, Edward Burns of 3250 Briggs Ave., Alameda was communicated with. He was distracted with grief and could ascribe no cause for the tragedy. His wife and little girl had gone to San Francisco and were to remain over night with friends. She prepared his meal and under his plate left all the surplus money in the house. That she possessed a pistol was entirely unknown to him and there had never been cause for him to suspect the suicidal strain in his devoted helpmate. They had lived happily together for 23 years.

At the inquest the day following the tragedy no motive other than temporary derangement due to the age of the unfortunate woman was brought out. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide in the case of the mother and in the case of the child, "Janette Burns came to her death through a pistol shot fired by May Agnes Burns, whether intentional or by accident we cannot determine."

The theory has been advanced that the mother, possessed of the frenzy to destroy herself, took little golden haired Janette into the lavatory with her for protection against herself, and that as she held her close to her and fired the shot, the bullet went clean through the skull of the mother and then entered the child's head, causing the two deaths. To bear out this theory, there was no powder marks on the child and the bullet remained in the brain although in the case of the mother it plowed its way through the skull.

The scene at the morgue upon the arrival of the broken hearted husband, father and brothers was beyond description and brought tears to the eyes of men long used to scenes of grief and agony.

Mr. Burns, himself an old Sonoma boy, came back to the scenes of former happiness, to the valley where he had wooed and won pretty May Donahue and found her cold in tragic, self willed death with their idolized child's form beside her. Two older children, a young lady daughter and a son 19 years of age were also left to mourn the unhappy end of their parent and little sister.

The funeral took place Tuesday from St. Francis Church. Many old time friends from Embarcacdero and this place followed the funeral cortege to the Catholic Cemetery where in one flower lined grave the mother and child were laid together to sleep the eternal sleep which was planned to bring solace to the imaginative troubles of a good wife and mother.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

President Wilson's Answer To Pope Benedict

President Wilson's reply to the Pope's peace proposals was disappointing to his Holiness but withal our chief executive is believed to have conveyed to the Pontiff the high morals and ideals which actuate the people of the people of the United States in the prosecution of this war to its decisive and righteous end. With the understanding of this brought home to Rome, further peace negotiations will be founded upon a broader and more stablle basis and the Pope will undoubtedly look with more tolerant regard upon the conduct of the war, pending the adjustment of the great and necessary factors to an abiding and faith keeping contract.

The Pope's attitude in his original message was due largely to the fact that he takes the spiritual point of view and figures in terms of eternity. Years, generations and even dynasties—the passing show—mean much less to him than the eternal reckoning and he would bring about temporary peace on terms which were not understandable to us, because he believed that a war swept world retards the spiritual growth and makes more foreign to men that brotherhood which is the real preparedness for a higher and nobler sphere.

His Holiness failed to consider the shifting sands upon which the peace proposal would rest with the Kaiser as the chief factor to be reckoned with and the Allies rightfully mistrusting a pledge which might serve just as an iron barrier behind which the iron heel would issue an edict for more preparedness for war lust and restlessly paw the earth until a second era of world domination seemed possible.

The Allies vision of enduring, economic, moral and sociological foundation for the dawn of real peace, and their point of view of the newer universal patriotism, will nnow be assimilated not only by Pope Benedict, but by the good people of Germany, and the war we are in will be illumined with the clear light of reason, the unflickering glow of truth, showing the zone of the rarer atmosphere of high conscience which is harbinger of an immortal-like consciousness and peace eternal.

Perhaps no two factors could be better working out a happy culmination of war's aftermath than the United States with its high ideals based on practicability and Pope Benedict with his spiritual vision and ear attuned to a harmony resounding from a sphere remote from the clang of military forging, the siren shriek of bursting schrapnel, the Damocles whirr of death dealing airplanes, the sinister sound of busy war gold.

Let us pray it may be so and that pressure will be brought to bear on the trusted conscience of the German people.

Promotion Work Is Good Work

Money spent by communities on publicity is at all times well expended and it is a known fact that the large sums devoted to this purpose by Southern California has practically made that section and was the means of attracting big capital there. St. Helena has just spent over $700 in connection with its annual vintage festival and feels well repaid for the wide advertising given its resources and advantages over other localities.

We of Sonoma Valley lag behind in this necessary step to advancement and when a trivial sum is spent as at the recent celebration, some carping critic voices his objection to it—a small piece of business particularly since it came from a real estate man whose line of business more than any other is helped by publicity of every kind.

Our big resorts are doing much good work in the way of making Sonoma Valley known and we are getting a benefit from it directly or indirectly. Let us not rest on laurels won by these folks and by the help of the late author, Jack London, who gave us a wonderful boost into the limelight with his "Valley of the Moon," but let us continue to get as good publicity from as many other sources and in as many other ways as possible.

Next time Sonoma Valley makes an appropriation for publicity let it be more than the $262.33 expended in making known the opening of the new highway route—the Black Point Cut-off. Continue to co-operate on every possible advertising campaign for this section and the harvest in tourist trade will be golden with the additional probability of permanent settlers in this ideal homeland.

As To Farm Advice

A visit to the vintage festival at St. Helena convinces us that the farm adviser proposed for Sonoma county and already endorsed by many other counties of California, is a much-to-be-desired addition to the official family of imperial Sonoma. Napa county endorses the plan unqualifiedly and the leading citizens of St. Helena heartily commended the idea. Among the most meritorious displays in the exhibit tent at St. Helena, were those from the various farm centers of Napa county which work under the guidance of the farm adviser. Sonoma Valley's rising generation of agriculturists who will shortly give a fair is a forerunner of the newer order of things in rural life and the young people are profiting by scientific advice and blazing the trail for the farm adviser in Sonoma county. If you have not interested yourself hitherto in the Boy's Agricultural Fair, do so this year and you will be a convert to the promotion of better agriculture and stock raising throughout the Valley of the Moon.

Remember that the question is not whether you personally may feel that you can afford to waste food; the point is that the Nation cannot afford to have any food wasted by anybody.

"I do not know much about reformers, but my constant observation has been they come high to the common people. Give them an inning at the public trough and they will spend more money on self-righteous theories than the worst form of government ever stole."—Kelly in S. F. Bulletin.

HUNTING PARTY WELL PLEASED WITH TRIP

Declaring that Henry Bates is a perfect "wiz" at the wheel of his Buick on the steep grades and that the country in northern Sonoma, Mendocino and Humboldt is the finest for scenery and pleasure in the world, Messrs. Wagnon, his son Hamil and Geo. Cassidy, who were with H. F. Bates on a hunting trip of ten days, returned late Saturday night last from the North. They brought back two fine deer to show their prowess as hunters and only one regret—that they could not remain longer and get a chance to fish in the Albion river.

The party went due north upon leaving here, making the 228 mile drive to Humboldt county via Layton ville, Cummings, Bell Spring, etc. over what is known as the Mountain Route They returned via Garberville, Kenny, Ft. Bragg, Mendocino City, Wendling and Cloverdale—the Coast route.

Going in they encamped one night near the state convict camp where prisoners are building state highway. The travellers spoke in high terms of the work done and the system whereby the convicts are allowed to reduce their prison terms by working on road construction. The prisoners quit work every day at 4:30, go back to camp and change their clothes. They are put entirely on their honor and "it must work all right,' says Postmaster Wagnon, 'for by stepping a few yards away the men could lose themselves in an impenetrable forest and wilderness." They are not at any time in regular convict garb and the Sonoma hunters talked with several who were blazing trails for the highway construction before they realized that they were holding conversation with former residents of San Quentin and Folsom.

At the end of the trail mapped out for their trip, the hunters were taken out by a guide and found shooting good, both Bates and Wagnon killing a deer the first day out.

Coming home via the Coast, they enjoyed the most inspiring scenery and met two travelers who caught 100 trout in the Albion river after 5 p. m., and were cooking them at 6:30 for their supper.

The roads are good and improving right along, the worst grades having been reduced already in many places and sharp turns widened out and improved. Mr. Wagnon commends the Cloverdale-Albion river trip of 175 miles to any travellers who enjoy fine scenery, good fishing and a short pleasure jaunt.

WECHICKA COLONY DANCE A SUCCESS

The good people of Wechicka gave the first of a series of dances at the school house in the colony last Saturday night and it was a decided success. Sociability reigned supreme and all who attended voiced the sentiment that more sociability should be promoted among the congenial and hospitable residents of that section. As a result arrangements are already under way to give a second dance and to create a fund for a clubhouse in the district.

About nine o'clock last Saturday evening all had gathered for a good time and upon the arrival of Peterson's string orchestra, there was a great ovation tendered the musicians. The dance enthusiasts were soon tripping the light fantastic to all the latest dance tunes and from the dreamy waltz to the jazziest rag the lovers of Terpsichore did full justice Between dances, the musicians which included Mrs. Peterson and Mr. Topete, rendered several vocal selections including some Hawaiian numbers by special request of Mrs. Carlson who formerly lived in the Islands and is now an active member of the Wechicka section. The music was heartily applauded.

About 2 a. m. this pleasant party broke up, the serving of delicious refreshments having brought a long-to-be-remembered evening to a close. The date of the next dance will shortly be announced.

Miss Zarifa Howe, member of the pioneer family, has been enjoying a vacation at Boyes Springs. Miss Howe was greeting old friends in town Saturday last. She is now residing in San Francisco.

SUIT OVER PROMISSORY NOTE

Attorney Phil Ware filed an action in the Superior Court Friday afternoon in which P. H. Thompson is plaintiff and William F. Clewe and others are defendents.

The basis of the suit is a promissory note, executed, at Sonoma on September 3, 1912, in which Marie Clewe secured $1600, and gave as security 20 shares of the Sonoma Valley Bank.

The complaint says that Mrs. Clewe died intestate June 5, 1917, and that at this time there was due on the principal and interest of the loan the sum of $1931. The prayer of the complaint asks that the court order foreclosure on the defendents and all other parties from the redemption of the stock held as security, and directing the sale of the property by the sheriff or a commissioner appointed by the court.

Mrs. Amelia Bates will entertain the Congregational Ladies Aid Society on Tuesday.

Dr. Herbert Shaw, Lieutenant Colonel with the U. S. Army in France, writes that he is now looking after the general health of the American troops over there.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it.

JACK LONDON HORSES TO BE AT STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept., 7.—Shires will be the monarchs of the draft horses class in the California State Fair's show here next week. For the first time in the history of the State Far, the Percherons are dethroned, the number of shires exceeding that of the French horses by more than 25 per cent despite the fact that there are more owners represented in the Percheron class than in the shire.

The noted Blackhaw ranch at Diablo is making the most complete showing in Shires of any stable represented. Over thirty magnificent English Shires, headed by the great stallion Anwick Arthur, who with his get won the premier championship at the Panama Pacific International Exposition, the highest honor that can be won in the show ring, are in the Blackhawk Ranch's exhibit. The horses arrived last week and are quartered on the Fair grounds in a barn which has been elaborately decorated in blue and gold, the California colors, under the direction of Superintendent E. S. Lovell, and which is sure to be one of the real show places at the Fair. The horses are all in splendid shape and Easton & Ward, the owners of the stable, undoubtedly will have some noteworthy additions to their trophies at the end of the Fair.

The Jack London Ranch of Glen Ellen also will have a strong showing in the Shire division. Neuadd Hillside, the ranch's premier stallion, who was awarded the champion stallion ribbon at the State Fair last year, died several months ago but some of his progeny out of the splendid matrons maintained at the Ranch will be shown and without doubt will make a determined bid for first honors.

GETS GOVERNMENT POSITION THROUGH MERIT

Miss Adele Livernash, sister of Mrs. Frank Koenig and Mrs. James Modini of this place, is holding a responsible position at Ft. Mason in the Quartermaster's department.

Miss Livernash took the civil service examinaton recently and out of a class of seventy candidates, was one of two who received the highest per cent of 98. Miss Livernash, who is a member of the talented family of writers and musicians, has been attending business college since leaving Sonoma. She was up recently for a short visit and is justly proud of her appointment in the service of Uncle Sam.

TALENTED ARTISTS MAY APPEAR HERE

Madame Lillian Bianchi and Miss Emma Baldocchi, talented musical artists of San Francisco, have been up here for a few days vacation, prior to signing up a contract with one of the large vaudeville circuits. Madam Bianchi is a trained singer, educated abroad and possessed of a fine personalty and a voice that has won the praise of the leading musical critics. She has appeared in grand opera and was offered an engagement to sing in Cavelleria Rusticana with the company which has been playing in San Francisco recently. Since closing her engagement at the Panama Pacific fair, however, Madam Bianchi has gone into vaudeville and prior to her visit here, closed 52 weeks engagement on the Pantages circuit. She is now booked for the Orpheum circuit and with Miss Baldocchi, who is a piano and accordian genius, as her accompanist, will appear in a musical act which combines operatic and popular selections. Whether Verdi, Arditi or folk songs, the brilliant soprano is bound to thrill her audiences.

While in Sonoma Valley the performers promised Landers Stevens that they would sometime come to the Boyes Springs theatre and sing for the fire department benefit fund.

Madam Bianchi is a relative of S. Cuicci and family and a charming and devoted wife and mother. Her husband is a prominent commission merchant of the metropolis.

PIGS AND POET REALLY GO TOGETHER

The 8 Duroc Jerseys shipped from the Red Rock Ranch to the State Fair by R. Q. Wickham Thursday morning, were accompanied by Mr. Wickham himself. Mr. Wickham is not only the owner of the pigs whom it is conceded will bring home the bacon, but he is also a poet of no ordinary talent. He will have a large display among the stock fanciers at Sacramento and banners will advertise the home of the eight proud porkers from Sonoma Valley.

Mr. Wickham is a member of the National Duroc Association which offers prizes amounting to $600.00 for the best display of Duroc-Jerseys at the State Fair. He also is the only Sonoma County member of the Western Duroc Jersey Association!

Good luck Romulus Quintilius!

WOUNDED MAN MAY RECOVER

Version of Kinsella Shooting Comes From San Rafael.

One of the most terrible examples of carelessness in this history of Marin county was given last Sunday in the accidental shooting of John Kinsella by Cletus C. Worth while the two were deer shooting.

As the result of the shooting, Kinsella is at the Cottage hospital suffering from a dangerous wound in the abdomen and the reports of the physicians do not give rise to great hope for his recovery.

Worth's party comprised, besides himself: Tyron Coit, B. T. Miller and Frank P. Grady. Kinsella was with the Barr party.

According to the story told, Coit and Worth separated a short distance from their huntng companions, thought they saw a deer across a gulch from them, on the Rogers ranch at Nicasio. Worth states that they had field glasses and after looking closely at the moving object, Coit fired and missed. Worth then fired three times, one of the bullets taking effect.

Kinsella, conscious for an hour after he was struck, said that he saw and recognized Worth before the shot was fired, waved a handkerchief and called out, "Don't shoot." Despite this warning he said Worth fired three shots in rapid succession.

Worth, the authorities report, did not make inquiry as to the condition of the man he had shot, and it was not until he was taken into custody at the Filipini ranch that his version of the affar was heard. He was questioned closely by District Attorney Butler, but no charge has as yet been placed against him. No action will be taken, it is said, until the outcome of Kinsella's injuries is known.—San Rafael Journal.

It is now said that Mr. Kinsella will probably recover from his injuries and the news will be received with joy by many local friends.

Mrs. Lutgens has been visiting her son and his family in Sebastopol.

Miss Bessie Knight spent the last week end with her parents at Shellville, motoring home Monday with city friends.

Geo. Bulotti, a prominent plumber and hardware merchant of S. F., spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Bulotti.

Mrs. Austin Keogh motored with a party of friends from San Francisco last week end to visit Mrs. I. Langford, who is spending the summer at her summer home at Boyes Springs. The party included Mrs. I. Langford's daughters, Mrs. Alma Clark, Mrs. Carl Graves, her husband and daughter, Leontine; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stahl, Clara J. Williams, Nordien Knudsen, Mrs. Ida Merell and Mr. W. J. Huston, who joined the party with his 6-passenger Winton. They motored back to the city via the Black Point cut-off Monday afternoon.

Miss Madeline Searcy, after a three weeks visit at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Culberson, returned to her home in Modesto last Saturday.

A. P. Haughn of Washington, accompanied by his family, motored down from the North to visit the Perazzos last week.

Mrs. McElroy has returned from a pleasant trip to the suburbs of San Francisco and may go to the city this winter to reside as her little grandchildren are to go to school in Petaluma this term and so will not make their home over here with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Allen of Fairmaid, Madera county, and four children are visiting Mrs. Allen's father, J. Bornecke.

FARM ADVISER FOR SONOMA CO.

By a recent act of Congress enough funds have been made available to place a farm adviser in practically every county in the United States which as yet have none.

This is a war emergency measure and proves the success that has attended the work in the counties where they have already been placed.

California's share of these funds provides for nineteen farm advisers and 32 assistant advisers, and if Sonoma county fulfils the necessary conditions, it is entitled to one advisor and three assistants.

The first step is the formation of a County Farm Bureau. This is an organization of farmers and others interested in agriculture, who combine to study the problems of the farm and to do anything they deem useful in their business.

The Bureau consists of several divisions (usually 10 or 12) called Farm Bureau Centers, which are the marking units.

These centers are established in convenient sections of the County and each has a Board of Directors who meet once a month to determine the agricultural policies of the month. The County Farm Adviser attends all these meetings as far as possible.

At these meetings the farmers present and discuss their problems, arrange visits to farms or experiment plants where these problems are being solved, they form committees or departments in co-operation with other centers, through the medium of the central bureau, for marketing their products, purchasing pure bred sires, cow testing or the special products of the dairy, swine breeder, poultry raiser, prune grower, etc.

The Farm Bureau is a farmers' organization, established and controlled by the farmers themselves. Their only connection with the farm adviser is that they have the right to call on him for assistance and by him are put in touch with the sources of information they require.

The Farm Bureau is an organization through which the Farm Advisor works and is necessary to make his work effective.

The Farm Adviser is the link which connects all the various units of the Bureau, its centers, departments and committees, and makes available to them the accumulative knowledge and expert advice of the Federal Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural College of the University of California.

The Bureau to be effective must include at least one-fifth of the farmers of the county. As soon as this proportion have joined and the supervisors have done their part, a Farm Adviser will be appointed.

Sonoma county is third in the state in the number of farmers, which at the last census is given as 4772. It is necessary therefore for 955 farmers to join the organization.

The Bureau is financed by dues of $1.00 per year paid by the members. This money is controlled by the farmers and is usually expended in publishing a monthly journal and other similiar ways. The Farm Adviser has no control over it.

Petitions will soon be circulated all over the county providing for the organization of a Farm Bureau and asking the Supervisors to appropriate the funds necessary to pay the expenses of the Farm Advisor and his assistants. The Federal government pays the salaries and the County an equal amount for travelling, office and other expenses.

It has been decided to install 19 new Farm Advisers in California, but as there are about 40 counties still unprovided with Farm Advisers, they will be placed in those counties that qualify first. Besides the 19 Advisers, 32 assistants have been provided for.

Sonoma county is so large, so diversified in its crops and conditions, and so capable of expansion and development, that it ought to have the maximum number of assistants allowed. That is, three in addition to the Farm Adviser. These assistants would make the work much more thorough, especially if they were carefully chosen, so that each would be especially qualified for one of the main agricultural interests of the county, such as horticulture, dairying and poultry raising.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT IN MEMORY OF REV. C. C. CRAGIN

At a meeting of the Ministerial Union held Monday resolutions of respect was passed by the organization in memory of the Rev. C. C. Cragin and the Rev. W. E. Potwine, who were both members and who both passed away during last week.

The Rev. C. Todd Clark was appointed to draft a resolution for the Rev. Cragin, which is as follows:

Wherefore, God in His providence has seen fit to call from his labors our friend and brother, Rev. C. C. Cragin; therefore be it

Resolved, (1) That the Santa Rosa Ministerial Association has lost a valued member whose loyal friendship we prized and whose personality is inseparable from every good work in Santa Rosa; that his love for the church and his loyalty to all its interests will be a cherished memory with us; that his gentleness and sincerity were worthy of emulation, and his patience and faith a beautiful example of Christian fortitude;

(2) That we extend to his bereaved wife our deepest sympathy in this her loss, and pray God's blessings on her in this her hour of trial;

(3) That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Cragin, a copy to the Santa Rosa papers and a copy recorded in the minutes of the Association.

VINEBURG

Fred Batto and family, accompanied by Miss Adele Andrieux, motored to St. Helena on Sunday last and after witnessing the festivities at that place, returned the same evening.

Hotel Vineburg has a number of guests registered from the bay cities and mine host Louis Martin is quite a busy man at the present time.

Batto's Spur is quite a lively place at the present time. A number of hands are engaged in drying fruit while others are storing hay and grain. A straight car load of choice red seed oats arrived at the spur on Wednesday last containing 20 tons. Many cars of hay and grain are in transit from this point.

Among the week end guests at the John Batto residence were Mrs. H. Banchero of Napa and Mrs. August Figone and family of San Francisco.

City Trustee Chas. McDevitt of Sonoma accompanied by Joe Andrieux was a visitor in this section on Monday last.

We were very glad but not surprised to shake hands with Vineburg's old friend, Mr. Frank Kennedy of San Jose, who for the past eighteen years has visited Vineburg every summer and is the guest at Raynal's Vineyard and Villa. Everyone was glad to meet Mr. Kennedy.

NEW ROAD WORK TO START SOON

Day Labor Instead of Contract Will Build the Stretch of County Highway Toward El Verano.

Supervisor Harry Weise was in town Wednesday arranging the preliminaries and purchase of crushed rock for the new permanent road to be constructed by the county from Chelini's corner toward El Verano. The road will be similiar to the one built last year up to the Springs but will be of a higher type. Several bids for the work were rejected and upon the advice of the County Engineer, it was decided to do it by day labor with the contractor on last year's job in charge as foreman of construction. This plan will not only make the cost less but will also put the money in circulation here at home.

Supervisor Weise intends also to continue on after this unit of work is done and immediately complete the link between Agua Caliente and Kenwood.

TAX-PAYERS STORM CITADEL

As a matter of fact if the Tax Payers League will see to it that county printing is distributed around to the various offices in Sonoma county, they will not have to foot exorbitant bills and will get all the co-operation necessary in seeing that county money is justly spent and it will not be necessary to pay dues in the league either. When editors have to scratch for a living and defend their prices and peddle their wares in competition with outside offices they cannot be expected to be on the proper footnig to fight the battles of the tax paying public as they should.

WEDDING BELLS FOR MISS BISH

Becomes Bride of Haywood Johnson at Napa Sunday.

Miss Rena Marie Bish, youngest daughter of L. M. Bish, prominent grape grower of Madrone, was united in marriage to Haywood Johnson at Napa last Sunday. Mr. Johnson is a popular N. W. P. conductor who has been on the Sausalito to Glen Ellen run for some time past.

Owing to the health of the bride's mother it was decided to have a quiet but pretty ceremony performed in Napa by Rev. H. C. Shopshire of the Christian church and the families and a few close friends of the bride and groom journeyed over to that city to witness the pretty nuptials of this popular girl and the estimable young man of her choice.

Miss Bish was modishly gowned in a handsome blue tailor suit and wore a becoming picture hat.

After the ceremony the happy couple departed on their honeymoon and will later reside somewhere along Mr. Johnson's new run which includes Duncan Mills to Santa Rosa.
